Europe's Best Wine Bars

WHETHER YOU'RE SIPPING IN SPAIN OR TIPPLING IN TURIN, T+L'S ANYA VON BREMZEN HAS THE SPOT FOR YOU.

GARRAFEIRA ALFAIA, LISBON

Snag one of the 18 wooden stools at this diminutive Bairro Alto boîte, where you can savor a singular Chardonnay from the emerging Alentejo region and be wowed by Barca Velha—a mythical Upper Douro red released only in exceptional years. The food is just as artisanal: black pig charcuterie; unctuous Azeitão, a sheep's-milk cheese coagulated with cardoon thistle; and sericaia, an airy, eggy soufflé served with famed Elvas sugarplums. 125 Rua do Diário de Notícias; 351/213-433-079; light meal for two $47.

LOS ASTURIANOS, MADRID

This no-frills taberna in the Chamberí district is the unofficial clubhouse for the capital's food and art crowds, and chef, journalist, and TV personality Alberto Fernández Bombín is your ultimate hipster host. That delicious fabada? »

In Vino Veritas Clockwise from bottom left: At Racines, a cave à manger in Paris's 11th Arrondissement; Garrafeira Alfaia, in Lisbon; house-made gnocchi with mushrooms at Vienna's Wein & Co.
